Passage 1 • Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow

The state government's initiative to promote organic farming among small and marginal farmers in Assam has drawn attention to both the opportunities and the constraints faced by the agricultural sector. By reducing dependence on chemical fertilisers and pesticides, organic methods are intended to improve long-term soil health and open access to premium markets for certified organic produce, both within India and abroad. Training programmes conducted at the village level introduce farmers to techniques such as composting, natural pest control and crop rotation, while certification support helps them meet the documentation standards required to sell their produce as organic. At the same time, farmers report that the transition period, during which yields may temporarily fall before soil fertility improves naturally, can create financial strain, particularly for those without savings to fall back on. Access to organic certification agencies, which are often concentrated in urban areas, also remains a practical hurdle for farmers in remote parts of the state. Policymakers therefore face the task of designing support systems that make the shift to organic farming financially viable in its early stages.

Answer questions 126 to 137 based on Passage 1 above.

126. According to the passage, what is one long-term aim of promoting organic farming?
- (a) Improving long-term soil health
 - (b) Eliminating farming entirely
 - (c) Reducing crop diversity
 - (d) Increasing chemical fertiliser use
127. What do village-level training programmes introduce to farmers, as per the passage?
- (a) Composting, natural pest control and crop rotation
 - (b) Software for farm accounting
 - (c) Industrial manufacturing skills
 - (d) Only chemical fertiliser techniques
128. What financial challenge is mentioned during the transition to organic farming?
- (a) Yields may temporarily fall, creating financial strain
 - (b) Farmers must pay higher taxes immediately
 - (c) Land prices rise sharply
 - (d) Export duties increase
129. According to the passage, where are organic certification agencies often concentrated?
- (a) Urban areas
 - (b) Forest regions
 - (c) Remote villages
 - (d) Coastal areas
130. The word 'viable' in the passage most nearly means:
- (a) Illegal
 - (b) Impossible
 - (c) Expensive beyond reach
 - (d) Workable or feasible
131. What does certification support help farmers do, according to the passage?
- (a) Meet documentation standards to sell produce as organic
 - (b) Avoid selling their produce
 - (c) Reduce crop yields permanently
 - (d) Increase pesticide use

132. Which of the following is described as a practical hurdle for remote farmers?
- (a) Excess access to urban markets
 - (b) Overabundance of training
 - (c) Limited access to certification agencies
 - (d) Too much government funding
133. What task do policymakers face, as stated in the passage?
- (a) Banning organic farming altogether
 - (b) Removing all farmer training programmes
 - (c) Increasing chemical fertiliser subsidies
 - (d) Designing support systems for the early stages of transition
134. The passage suggests organic certification can help farmers access:
- (a) Only local weekly markets
 - (b) Free land
 - (c) Premium markets, within India and abroad
 - (d) Government jobs
135. The overall tone of the passage is:
- (a) Purely celebratory
 - (b) Balanced and informative
 - (c) Sarcastic
 - (d) Strongly critical
136. What best summarises the passage's main idea?
- (a) Organic farming has no drawbacks
 - (b) Organic farming offers benefits but also practical challenges for Assam's farmers
 - (c) Chemical farming is always superior
 - (d) Certification agencies are unnecessary
137. The phrase 'fall back on' in the passage most nearly means:
- (a) Attack
 - (b) Sell quickly
 - (c) Rely on for support
 - (d) Ignore completely

Passage 2: Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow

Public libraries have historically served as centres of learning accessible to people regardless of their income, but their role has evolved considerably with the growth of digital technology. Many libraries now offer free internet access, digital catalogues and e-book lending services alongside their traditional print collections, making them valuable resources for students preparing for competitive examinations who may not otherwise have reliable access to study materials or a quiet place to study. Community libraries in smaller towns and rural areas play a particularly important role in bridging gaps in educational access, often serving as informal coaching centres where students gather to prepare together. However, funding constraints frequently limit how quickly rural libraries can update their collections or improve their facilities, and staff shortages can also restrict opening hours. Advocates argue that continued investment in public libraries offers a cost-effective way to support education and self-improvement across a wide section of the population, especially in areas where formal coaching institutes are scarce or unaffordable.

Answer questions 138 to 150 based on Passage 2 above.

138. According to the passage, what have public libraries historically served as?
- (a) Purely government record offices
 - (b) Centres of learning accessible regardless of income
 - (c) Private businesses
 - (d) Exclusive clubs for scholars
139. What digital services do many libraries now offer, as per the passage?
- (a) Only paid internet access
 - (b) Video game rentals
 - (c) Physical newspapers only
 - (d) Free internet access, digital catalogues and e-book lending
140. Why are libraries valuable for students preparing for competitive exams, according to the passage?
- (a) Libraries provide free food
 - (b) They may lack reliable access to study materials or a quiet place to study otherwise
 - (c) Libraries replace schools entirely
 - (d) All students already own private study rooms
141. What role do community libraries in rural areas play, as per the passage?
- (a) Replacing all schools
 - (b) Increasing educational inequality
 - (c) Discouraging group study
 - (d) Bridging gaps in educational access
142. The word 'constraints' in the passage most nearly means:
- (a) Opportunities
 - (b) Advantages
 - (c) Limitations
 - (d) Celebrations
143. What can staff shortages restrict, according to the passage?
- (a) Opening hours
 - (b) Internet speed only
 - (c) Number of members
 - (d) Book prices
144. According to advocates mentioned in the passage, investment in public libraries is:
- (a) Only relevant to urban areas
 - (b) A cost-effective way to support education
 - (c) An unnecessary expense
 - (d) Less useful than private coaching
145. The passage notes that rural libraries often act informally as:
- (a) Hospitals
 - (b) Banks
 - (c) Government offices
 - (d) Coaching centres where students gather to prepare together
146. What is described as scarce or unaffordable in some areas, according to the passage?
- (a) Public libraries
 - (b) School buildings
 - (c) Formal coaching institutes
 - (d) Internet cafes

147. The overall purpose of the passage is to:
- (a) Argue against free education
 - (b) Explain the evolving role and challenges of public libraries
 - (c) Promote a specific library chain
 - (d) Criticise digital technology
148. What limits how quickly rural libraries can update collections, as per the passage?
- (a) Excess funding
 - (b) Overuse by students
 - (c) Funding constraints
 - (d) Too many staff
149. Which of the following best summarises the passage?
- (a) Libraries are becoming obsolete
 - (b) Digital access has replaced the need for libraries
 - (c) Public libraries remain valuable for education despite facing funding and staffing challenges
 - (d) Only urban libraries are useful
150. The phrase 'bridging gaps' in the passage most likely means:
- (a) Building physical bridges
 - (b) Reducing differences or disparities
 - (c) Increasing distances
 - (d) Creating new problems
