Preface — How to Use This Book

This guidebook has been compiled as an independent, self-study companion for candidates preparing for the Assam Direct Recruitment Examination (ADRE) 2027, conducted by the Assam Staff Selection Commission / SLRC for Grade III and Grade IV posts under the Government of Assam. It is not an official publication of SLRC, AASC, or the Government of Assam, and it does not reproduce any copyrighted question paper. It has been written from scratch to cover the General Knowledge, Social Studies, and General Awareness portion of the ADRE syllabus in a structured, revision-friendly format.

The ADRE syllabus places General Knowledge and Current Affairs alongside Social Studies, Logical Reasoning, General English, and General Mathematics. Within General Knowledge and Social Studies, past patterns and officially released syllabi have consistently emphasised: Assam's history, geography, culture and polity; Indian history, geography and the Constitution; general science; and current affairs, inventions, and world organisations. This book is organised to mirror that weightage, with a strong focus on Assam-specific content, since Assam GK questions are asked in almost every ADRE paper and are the single highest-yield area for candidates who prepare specifically for this exam rather than relying only on generic GK material.

How this book is organised

- Chapters 1–2 orient you to the exam pattern and give you a one-page snapshot of Assam.
- Chapters 3–6 cover Assam in depth — History, Geography, Polity & Administration, and Economy/Society/Culture.
- Chapters 7–10 cover India-level GK — History, Geography, Polity & Constitution, and General Science.
- Chapter 11 covers general awareness topics — inventions, organisations, days, sports, and awards.
- Chapter 12 gives you a strategy for the Current Affairs portion, since printed material can never cover events that haven't happened yet.
- Chapter 13 is a rapid-revision bank of one-liner facts for the final days before your exam.
- Chapter 14 is a full-length, 50-question practice test covering every chapter, with an answer key.
- The Appendix gives you a suggested eight-week study planner.

A note on currency of facts: static information in this book (history, geography, the Constitution, science) does not go out of date and has been checked carefully. Numbers that change periodically by government notification — such as the exact count of districts, the number of autonomous councils, or scheme names — are flagged where relevant so that you cross-check the latest figure closer to your exam date.

Chapter 1 — ADRE 2027: Exam Blueprint & Strategy

1.1 About the Examination

The Assam Direct Recruitment Examination (ADRE) is a large-scale, state-level recruitment drive conducted by the Government of Assam to fill Grade III and Grade IV posts across multiple departments through a single common written examination. ADRE 1.0 and ADRE 2.0 have already been conducted; ADRE 3.0 (referred to here as ADRE 2027, based on its expected notification and exam window) is the next edition. Vacancies typically number in the thousands, spanning clerical, technical, and support roles across departments such as Revenue, Education, Health, Agriculture, and Police (non-gazetted support posts).

1.2 Exam Pattern at a Glance

Parameter	Details
Mode of Exam	Offline, OMR-based objective test
Grade III Papers	Categorised by qualification: HSSLC level, Bachelor's Degree level, and HSLC level (for certain technical/driver posts)
Grade III — Marks & Questions	150 questions — 125 questions of 1 mark + 25 Reading Comprehension/English questions of 2 marks = 175 total marks
Grade IV — Marks & Questions	150 questions of 1 mark each = 150 total marks (no separate Reading Comprehension section)
Duration	3 hours (180 minutes) for both grades
Negative Marking	0.25 mark deducted for every wrong answer
Grade III Subjects	Social Studies / General Knowledge & Current Affairs, Logical Reasoning & Mental Ability, General English, General Mathematics, Reading Comprehension
Grade IV Subjects	General Knowledge & Current Affairs, General English, General Mathematics (Reasoning is typically reduced or combined depending on the notification)

Always verify the exact pattern against the official ADRE 2027 notification once released — the marks split, subject list, and paper category (HSLC/HSSLC/Bachelor's) depend on the specific post you apply for.

1.3 Why General Knowledge Matters So Much in ADRE

Unlike national-level exams where GK is a small, generic section, ADRE's General Knowledge and Social Studies component draws heavily on Assam-specific material — the state's history, geography, polity, and culture — alongside standard India-level GK and current affairs. Because most competing candidates prepare from generic national GK books, a candidate who specifically masters Assam GK gains a clear scoring edge. This is the single most important strategic insight for this exam.

1.4 Officially Emphasised GK Topics

Based on the syllabus structure released for previous ADRE editions, the General Knowledge and Social Studies section draws from:

- Physical Geography of India and the world
- Economic and Social Geography of India
- Geography of Assam
- Ancient, Medieval and Modern Indian History
- The Indian Freedom Struggle
- History of Assam
- Indian Constitution and basic Civics
- Current national and international affairs
- New inventions, scientific observations
- World organisations and famous places in India

1.5 Preparation Strategy

- Give Assam History, Geography, Polity and Culture the highest priority — expect a large share of GK questions from this area alone.
- Build a one-page 'Assam fact sheet' (this book gives you one in Chapter 2) and revise it weekly.
- Cover Indian History, Geography, and Polity at a foundational, 10th-standard depth — ADRE rarely asks highly advanced questions in these areas.
- Read a daily or weekly current affairs digest for the 6–12 months before your exam, with special attention to Assam government schemes, appointments, and events.
- Practise topic-wise quizzes (like the ones in this book) immediately after reading each chapter, not weeks later.
- In the final month, rely on rapid revision (Chapter 13) rather than reading new material.

Chapter 2 — Assam at a Glance (One-Page Snapshot)

Keep this page bookmarked. It is the single most exam-relevant page in this book — memorise it first.

Capital	Dispur (within Guwahati)
Largest City	Guwahati
Formation	As a British province from 1826 (Treaty of Yandabo); reorganised after Indian independence, with Nagaland (1963), Meghalaya (1972) and Mizoram (1987) later carved out as separate states
Official Language	Assamese (Bodo also has official status in Bodoland Territorial Region; Bengali is an associate official language in Barak Valley districts)
Main River	Brahmaputra (called Yarlung Tsangpo in Tibet, Siang/Dihang in Arunachal Pradesh)
Major River Valleys	Brahmaputra Valley and Barak Valley
Neighbouring States	Arunachal Pradesh, Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram, Tripura, Meghalaya, West Bengal
International Border	Shares a border with Bangladesh and Bhutan
State Animal	One-horned rhinoceros
State Bird	White-winged wood duck (Deo Hah)
State Tree	Hollong
State Flower	Foxtail orchid (Kopou Phul)
Classical Dance	Sattriya
Main Festival	Bihu (Rongali/Bohag, Kati/Kongali, Magh/Bhogali)
Famous Silk	Muga (golden silk, unique to Assam), Eri, and Pat
Legislative Assembly Seats	126
Lok Sabha Seats	14
Rajya Sabha Seats	7
Major Industries	Tea, petroleum & natural gas, handloom & handicrafts, plywood, jute
Oldest Oil Refinery	Digboi Refinery (established 1901) — among the oldest operating oil refineries in Asia
UNESCO World Heritage Sites	Kaziranga National Park and Manas National Park
World's Largest River Island	Majuli (on the Brahmaputra)

District count and the number of autonomous councils in Assam change periodically through government notification. Verify the latest official count closer to your exam rather than relying on a fixed number here.

Chapter 3 — History of Assam

3.1 Ancient Assam

Early Assam finds mention in ancient Indian literature as Pragjyotisha and later as the kingdom of Kamarupa, associated with legendary rulers such as Narakasura and, in the historical period, the Varman dynasty. Kamarupa at its peak extended across much of the Brahmaputra Valley and parts of present-day Bengal and Bhutan, and it maintained recorded diplomatic contact with the Gupta Empire and, later, with Harshavardhana's court, as noted by the Chinese traveller Xuanzang.

3.2 The Ahom Dynasty (1228–1826)

The Ahom dynasty, founded by Sukaphaa in 1228 CE after he crossed the Patkai hills into the Brahmaputra Valley, ruled Assam for nearly six centuries — one of the longest-ruling dynasties in Indian history. The Ahoms developed a sophisticated administrative system (the Paik system of labour-based administration) and successfully repelled repeated Mughal invasions, most famously at the Battle of Saraighat in 1671, where the Ahom general Lachit Borphukan defeated a much larger Mughal naval force on the Brahmaputra. Later Ahom rulers such as Rudra Singha and Rajeswar Singha strengthened the kingdom's temples, roads, and irrigation works. The kingdom weakened considerably after the Moamoria Rebellion (a prolonged peasant uprising in the late 18th century) and Burmese invasions in the early 19th century.

3.3 Colonial Assam

Following the First Anglo-Burmese War, the Treaty of Yandabo (1826) transferred control of Assam to the British East India Company. British Assam saw the commercial development of the tea industry after Robert Bruce and his brother C.A. Bruce identified indigenous tea plants growing wild in Upper Assam in the 1820s, leading to the first commercial tea gardens by the 1830s–40s. The British also developed oil extraction at Digboi (Asia's first oil well, drilled in 1889) and expanded the railway and river transport network.

3.4 Assam and the Freedom Struggle

Assam actively participated in the Indian freedom movement. Notable figures include Tarun Ram Phukan, a prominent Congress leader in Assam; Chandraprabha Saikiani, a social reformer and freedom fighter; and Kanaklata Barua, a teenager shot dead in 1942 while leading a procession to hoist the national flag during the Quit India Movement — she is remembered as a martyr ('Shaheed'). Gopinath Bordoloi played a crucial role in keeping Assam within India during the tense negotiations around independence and partition, and became the state's first Chief Minister.

3.5 Post-Independence Assam

After 1947, Assam's boundaries were substantially redrawn: Nagaland became a separate state in 1963, followed by Meghalaya in 1972 (carved out of Assam's hill districts), and Mizoram attained full statehood in 1987 after a period as a Union Territory. Arunachal Pradesh, earlier administered as the North-East Frontier Agency, also became a separate state in 1987. In the 1980s, the Assam Movement (1979–1985), led by the All Assam Students' Union (AASU), agitated against illegal immigration and culminated in the Assam Accord of 1985, signed by the Government of India, the Government of Assam, and AASU leaders. In more recent decades, Assam has also seen peace accords with various ethnic groups, including the Bodo Accord (multiple rounds, most notably 2020), aimed at resolving long-standing autonomy demands.

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 3: History of Assam

- Which ancient kingdom, mentioned in Puranic and epic literature, corresponds to early Assam?
(a) Avanti (b) Magadha (c) Kalinga (d) Kamarupa (Pragjyotisha)
- Who founded the Ahom kingdom in Assam in 1228 CE?
(a) Sudangphaa (b) Suhungmung (c) Rudra Singha (d) Sukaphaa
- The Ahoms famously and decisively defeated the Mughals at the Battle of Saraighat (1671) under the leadership of:
(a) Chandrakanta Singha (b) Lachit Borphukan (c) Momai Tamuli Borbarua (d) Purandar Singha
- The Moamoria Rebellion, which severely weakened the Ahom kingdom, took place mainly in which century?
(a) 14th century (b) 18th century (c) 20th century (d) 16th century
- British control over Assam was formally established through which treaty, signed with the Burmese in 1826?
(a) Treaty of Amritsar (b) Treaty of Lahore (c) Treaty of Sugauli (d) Treaty of Yandabo
- The commercial discovery of tea growing wild in Assam in the 1820s is credited to which brothers, who helped pioneer the Assam tea industry?

- (a) The Wright brothers (b) The Grimm brothers (c) The Bruce brothers (Robert and Charles Alexander Bruce)
(d) The Lumiere brothers

7. Kanaklata Barua, a teenage martyr of Assam's freedom movement, was killed in 1942 while participating in which movement?

- (a) The Swadeshi Movement (b) The Salt Satyagraha (c) The Quit India Movement (d) The Non-Cooperation Movement

8. Gopinath Bordoloi, the first Chief Minister of Assam after independence, was posthumously awarded which honour?

- (a) Param Vir Chakra (b) Bharat Ratna (c) Ashoka Chakra (d) Padma Vibhushan only

9. Which two states were carved out of Assam in 1972, alongside the earlier separation of Nagaland in 1963?

- (a) Meghalaya and (the Union Territory that became) Mizoram's status changed later (b) Sikkim and Tripura (c) Arunachal Pradesh and Mizoram (d) Manipur and Tripura

10. The Assam Accord, aimed at resolving the foreigners' issue following the Assam Movement, was signed in the year:

- (a) 2000 (b) 1990 (c) 1985 (d) 1979

Chapter 4 — Geography of Assam

4.1 Physical Setting

Assam occupies the Brahmaputra Valley and the Barak Valley, separated by the hill districts of Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao. The Brahmaputra Valley runs roughly west to east across northern Assam, flanked by the Himalayan foothills to the north and the Meghalaya plateau and Naga-Patkai hills to the south. The Barak Valley, in the southern part of the state, is drained by the Barak river (which continues into Bangladesh as the Surma/Meghna).

4.2 Rivers

The Brahmaputra is Assam's defining river — known as the Yarlung Tsangpo in Tibet and the Siang/Dihang as it enters Arunachal Pradesh before becoming the Brahmaputra in Assam. Its major tributaries include the Subansiri, Kameng, Manas, Dhansiri, and Jia Bharali on the north bank, and the Dibang, Lohit, Dikhow, and Kopili on the south bank. The Brahmaputra's shifting course and heavy silt load create numerous river islands (chars), the largest and most famous being Majuli.

4.3 Wildlife and Protected Areas

Assam is home to several ecologically significant national parks and sanctuaries:

- Kaziranga National Park — UNESCO World Heritage Site; largest population of the one-horned rhinoceros in the world.
- Manas National Park — UNESCO World Heritage Site; Project Tiger reserve on the Bhutan border, known for the golden langur and pygmy hog.
- Nameri National Park — known for birdlife and the white-winged wood duck.
- Dibru-Saikhwa National Park — known for feral horses and rich riverine biodiversity.
- Pobitora Wildlife Sanctuary — highest density of one-horned rhinoceros in the world.
- Orang National Park — sometimes called 'Mini Kaziranga' for its similar rhino habitat.

4.4 Minerals and Natural Resources

Assam was the site of Asia's first drilled oil well, at Digboi (1889), and remains a significant producer of crude oil and natural gas, with major installations at Digboi, Duliajan, and Numaligarh. The state also has coal deposits (notably in the Makum coalfield), limestone, and natural gas reserves, and its forests support a substantial plywood and timber industry.

4.5 Climate and Soil

Assam has a humid subtropical climate with heavy monsoon rainfall (among the highest in India), contributing both to fertile alluvial soils ideal for tea and rice cultivation and to recurring seasonal flooding of the Brahmaputra and its tributaries, which is itself a frequently tested current-affairs and geography topic.

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 4: Geography of Assam

1. Assam's geography is dominated by two major valleys separated by hill ranges. What are they called?
(a) Kashmir Valley and Kangra Valley (b) Ganga Valley and Indus Valley (c) Brahmaputra Valley and Barak Valley (d) Imphal Valley and Barak Valley
2. Which is the largest tributary of the Brahmaputra within Assam, joining it from the north bank?
(a) Betwa (b) Subansiri (c) Chambal (d) Yamuna
3. Majuli, the world's largest inhabited river island, lies on the Brahmaputra in which district?
(a) Golaghat (b) Dibrugarh (c) Sivasagar (d) Majuli district (formed in 2016 from part of Jorhat)
4. Kaziranga National Park is world-famous primarily for its population of:
(a) Snow leopard (b) Giant panda (c) Asiatic lion (d) One-horned rhinoceros
5. Manas National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site in Assam, lies along the border with which country?
(a) Bhutan (b) Bangladesh (c) Nepal (d) Myanmar
6. Pobitora Wildlife Sanctuary is particularly known for having one of the highest densities of which animal in the world?
(a) Asian elephant (b) One-horned rhinoceros (c) Bengal tiger (d) Clouded leopard

7. The Karbi Anglong and Dima Hasao districts of Assam are primarily characterised by which type of terrain?
(a) Hills and plateau (b) Glaciated mountains (c) Coastal plains (d) Desert
8. Which town in Assam is home to Asia's oldest operating oil refinery, commissioned in 1901?
(a) Numaligarh (b) Duliajan (c) Bongaigaon (d) Digboi
9. The Barak Valley of Assam includes which three districts?
(a) Silchar, Jorhat and Sivasagar (b) Karimganj, Dhubri and Goalpara (c) Cachar, Nagaon and Morigaon (d) Cachar, Karimganj and Hailakandi
10. Assam's climate is best classified as:
(a) Mediterranean climate (b) Hot desert climate (c) Polar climate (d) Humid subtropical, with a monsoon-dominated wet season

Answers: 1-c 2-b 3-d 4-d 5-a 6-b 7-a 8-d 9-d 10-d

Chapter 5 — Assam Polity & Administration

5.1 State Government Structure

Like other Indian states, Assam has a parliamentary system of government headed constitutionally by the Governor (appointed by the President of India) and, in practice, administered by the Chief Minister and the Council of Ministers, who are responsible to the unicameral Assam Legislative Assembly (126 elected seats, plus provision for a nominated Anglo-Indian member historically, since discontinued after the 104th Constitutional Amendment). The Assembly is headed by a Speaker.

5.2 Autonomous Councils

Because Assam is home to numerous distinct ethnic and tribal communities, several autonomous councils and territorial regions have been created under the Sixth Schedule of the Constitution or through separate state legislation to give these communities a degree of self-governance over local matters such as land, culture, and development:

- Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) — for the Bodo-majority areas of western and central Assam.
- Karbi Anglong Autonomous Council — for the Karbi Anglong hill district.
- North Cachar Hills Autonomous Council (Dima Hasao) — for the Dima Hasao hill district.
- Additional autonomous councils have been created over time for communities including the Mising, Tiwa, Rabha-Hasong, Sonowal Kachari, Deori, and others.

The exact list and boundaries of autonomous councils have been expanded and modified periodically; verify the current list from a recent official source before your exam.

5.3 Judiciary

The Gauhati High Court (Guwahati High Court), established in 1948, is the primary High Court of judicature for Assam and also has jurisdiction over Nagaland, Mizoram, and Arunachal Pradesh, with permanent benches at Kohima, Aizawl, and Itanagar.

5.4 Representation in Parliament

Assam elects 14 members to the Lok Sabha and 7 members to the Rajya Sabha, reflecting its position as the most populous state in north-east India.

5.5 Local Self-Government

Rural local governance in Assam follows the standard three-tier Panchayati Raj structure — Gram Panchayat at the village level, Anchalik Panchayat at the block level, and Zila Parishad at the district level — while urban areas are governed by municipal boards and corporations, with the Guwahati Municipal Corporation being the largest.

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 5: Assam Polity & Administration

1. The Assam Legislative Assembly is a:
(a) Unicameral house with 126 elected members (b) Advisory body only (c) Bicameral legislature (d) Nominated body
2. The ceremonial head of the state government of Assam is the:
(a) Governor (b) Chief Minister (c) Chief Secretary (d) Speaker
3. The Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) is an autonomous body created primarily for the administration and development of which community's areas?
(a) The Karbi community (b) The Mising community (c) The Bodo community (d) The Rabha community
4. The Karbi Anglong Autonomous Council administers which hill district(s) of Assam?
(a) Dhubri (b) Cachar (c) Barpeta (d) Karbi Anglong (and West Karbi Anglong)
5. Guwahati High Court, the primary High Court for Assam and other north-eastern states, was established in which year?
(a) 1948 (b) 1935 (c) 1972 (d) 1950
6. How many seats does Assam send to the Lok Sabha?
(a) 16 (b) 10 (c) 14 (d) 12
7. How many seats does Assam have in the Rajya Sabha?

(a) 9 (b) 6 (c) 7 (d) 5

8. Panchayati Raj institutions in Assam, as in the rest of India, operate at how many tiers?

(a) Three (Gram Panchayat, Anchalik Panchayat, Zila Parishad) (b) One (c) Four (d) Two

Answers: 1-a 2-a 3-c 4-d 5-a 6-c 7-c 8-a

Chapter 6 — Assam Economy, Society & Culture

6.1 Tea and Agriculture

Assam is India's largest tea-producing state and one of the largest tea-growing regions in the world, a legacy of 19th-century British commercial plantations. Beyond tea, the state's fertile, flood-fed alluvial plains support rice as the staple crop, along with jute, sugarcane, and a wide variety of horticultural produce. Agriculture and allied activities remain the largest source of rural livelihood in the state.

6.2 Handloom and Handicrafts

Assam has one of India's richest handloom traditions. Three types of silk are produced in the state — muga (a naturally golden, durable silk unique to Assam and holding Geographical Indication status), eri (a warm, matte silk sometimes called 'ahimsa silk' since it can be harvested without killing the silkworm), and pat (a fine white silk). Weaving is traditionally practised in Assamese households, and Sualkuchi, near Guwahati, is often called the 'Manchester of Assam' for its concentration of silk weaving.

6.3 Religion, Reform, and the Sattria Tradition

Srimanta Sankardev (1449–1568), a saint, scholar, playwright, and social reformer, founded the Ek Sarana Naam Dharma, a monotheistic Neo-Vaishnavite movement emphasising devotion (bhakti) to a single God without idol worship. He and his chief disciple Madhabdev established the institution of the Sattria — monastic centres that combined religious practice with the cultivation of literature, music, dance, and drama (Ankia Naat). The Sattriya dance form, which originated within this tradition, has since been recognised as one of India's classical dance forms.

6.4 Festivals

Bihu is Assam's defining festival, celebrated three times a year, each marking a different point in the agricultural cycle:

- Rongali/Bohag Bihu (mid-April) — the Assamese New Year, marking the start of the sowing season; the most widely celebrated of the three.
- Kati/Kongali Bihu (mid-October) — a comparatively austere festival marking the period between sowing and harvest.
- Magh/Bhogali Bihu (mid-January) — the harvest festival, marked by community feasts (Bhoj) and bonfires (Meji).

Assam's diverse tribal communities also celebrate their own major festivals, including Ali-Ai-Ligang (Mising, spring sowing festival), Baishagu (Bodo, spring festival), Me-Dam-Me-Phi (Ahom community, an ancestor-veneration festival), and Rongker and Chomangkan (Karbi festivals).

6.5 Notable Personalities

Name	Known For
Srimanta Sankardev	Founder of Neo-Vaishnavism and the Sattria tradition; playwright and social reformer
Lachit Borphukan	Ahom general who defeated the Mughals at the Battle of Saraighat (1671)
Bhupen Hazarika	Singer, lyricist, composer and filmmaker; cultural icon of Assam and the north-east
Lakshminath Bezbaroa	Pioneer of modern Assamese prose, short stories and children's literature
Jyoti Prasad Agarwala	Playwright, poet, filmmaker; regarded as the father of Assamese cinema
Gopinath Bordoloi	First Chief Minister of Assam; posthumous Bharat Ratna recipient
Kanaklata Barua	Teenage martyr of the Quit India Movement in Assam (1942)
Hem Barua / Chandraprabha Saikiani	Notable figures in Assam's literary and social-reform history

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 6: Assam Economy, Society & Culture

1. Which type of Assam silk is prized for its natural golden sheen and is produced almost exclusively in the state?
(a) Tussar silk (b) Muga silk (c) Mulberry silk (d) Banarasi silk
2. Srimanta Sankardev, the 15th–16th century Assamese saint-reformer, is most associated with founding which religious-cultural movement?
(a) The Arya Samaj (b) The Sikh Gurudwara movement (c) The Bhakti movement in Maharashtra (d) The Neo-Vaishnavite (Ek Sarana Naam Dharma) movement
3. The 'Sattras', institutions central to Assamese religious and cultural life, are best described as:
(a) Vaishnavite monastic institutions combining religion, art and education (b) Colonial administrative units (c) Royal palaces (d) Tea estate offices
4. Which classical dance form of India originated within the Sattras of Assam?
(a) Kathakali (b) Odissi (c) Sattriya (d) Bharatanatyam
5. Bhupen Hazarika, one of Assam's most celebrated cultural figures, was primarily known as a:
(a) Cricketer (b) Scientist (c) Singer, lyricist, and filmmaker (d) Freedom fighter only
6. Rongali (or Bohag) Bihu, the most prominent of the three Bihu festivals, marks:
(a) A religious fasting period (b) Assam's statehood day (c) The Assamese New Year and the start of the agricultural sowing season (d) The end of the harvest season
7. Which Bihu is also known as the 'harvest Bihu', celebrated in mid-January?
(a) Kati (Kongali) Bihu (b) Rongali Bihu (c) None of the above (d) Magh (Bhogali) Bihu
8. 'Ali-Ai-Ligang' is a spring agricultural festival celebrated by which Assam community?
(a) The Bodo community (b) The Karbi community (c) The Mising community (d) The Tiwa community
9. Which of the following is Assam's major agro-based industry, historically linked to British colonial enterprise?
(a) Automobile manufacturing (b) Shipbuilding (c) Aerospace (d) Tea
10. Lakshminath Bezbaroa, an important figure in Assamese literature, is best known for his contribution to:
(a) Assam's oil industry (b) Assamese short stories, essays and children's literature (including collections of folk tales) (c) Assamese classical music composition only (d) Assam's cricket administration

Chapter 7 — Indian History Essentials

7.1 Ancient India

The Indus Valley (Harappan) Civilisation, one of the world's earliest urban civilisations, flourished along the Indus river system from roughly 2500 BCE, with major sites including Mohenjo-daro and Harappa (now in Pakistan) and Dholavira and Lothal (in India). The subsequent Vedic Age saw the composition of the Vedas and the emergence of early Indian philosophical and social traditions. The Maurya Empire (4th–2nd century BCE), founded by Chandragupta Maurya and expanded under Ashoka, was among the first empires to unify most of the Indian subcontinent; Ashoka's embrace of Buddhism after the Kalinga War is a frequently tested fact. The Gupta Empire (4th–6th century CE) is often called India's 'Golden Age' for its advances in mathematics (including the concept of zero), astronomy, and Sanskrit literature.

7.2 Medieval India

The Delhi Sultanate (1206–1526), comprising five successive dynasties, preceded the Mughal Empire, founded by Babur in 1526 after his victory at the First Battle of Panipat. Key Mughal emperors include Akbar (known for administrative reform and religious tolerance), Jahangir, Shah Jahan (who built the Taj Mahal), and Aurangzeb, after whose reign the empire gradually declined.

7.3 Modern India and the Freedom Struggle

British colonial rule formalised after the Battle of Plassey (1757) and expanded over the following century, with the Revolt of 1857 marking the first large-scale armed uprising against Company rule; British Crown rule (the 'Raj') formally began in 1858. The Indian National Congress, founded in 1885, became the principal vehicle of the freedom movement. Mahatma Gandhi led three major mass movements — the Non-Cooperation Movement (1920–22), the Civil Disobedience Movement (starting with the Dandi Salt March, 1930), and the Quit India Movement (1942) — alongside the contributions of leaders such as Jawaharlal Nehru, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Subhas Chandra Bose, and B.R. Ambedkar. India achieved independence on 15 August 1947 and adopted its Constitution on 26 January 1950, becoming a republic.

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 7: Indian History Essentials

- The Indus Valley Civilisation was primarily located along which river system?
(a) The Godavari (b) The Krishna (c) The Ganga (d) The Indus and its tributaries
- Which Mauryan emperor is best known for adopting and propagating Buddhism after the Kalinga War?
(a) Bindusara (b) Chandragupta Maurya (c) Ashoka (d) Samudragupta
- The Gupta period (4th–6th century CE) is often referred to as a 'Golden Age' of India primarily due to achievements in:
(a) Industrialisation (b) Naval warfare only (c) Space exploration (d) Art, science, mathematics and literature
- Which Mughal emperor built the Taj Mahal in memory of his wife?
(a) Shah Jahan (b) Akbar (c) Aurangzeb (d) Jahangir
- The Revolt of 1857, often called India's First War of Independence, began at:
(a) Delhi (b) Meerut (c) Lucknow (d) Kanpur
- The Indian National Congress was founded in the year:
(a) 1885 (b) 1857 (c) 1905 (d) 1920
- Mahatma Gandhi launched the Non-Cooperation Movement in:
(a) 1942 (b) 1930 (c) 1920 (d) 1919

Chapter 8 — Indian Geography Essentials

8.1 Physical Divisions of India

India can be divided into broad physiographic regions: the Himalayan mountain system in the north; the Indo-Gangetic Plain, formed by the Indus, Ganga, and Brahmaputra river systems; the Peninsular Plateau (including the Deccan Plateau), India's oldest and most stable landmass; the coastal plains along the Arabian Sea (west) and Bay of Bengal (east); and the Thar Desert in the west, mainly within Rajasthan.

8.2 Rivers

The Ganga, India's longest river within the country and considered its most sacred, originates at Gangotri in the Himalayas and flows across the Gangetic Plain before joining the Brahmaputra in Bangladesh to form the Sundarbans delta, the world's largest river delta and mangrove forest. Other major river systems include the Indus (mostly in Pakistan today, with headwaters in India), the Brahmaputra (entering India from Tibet via Arunachal Pradesh and Assam), and the peninsular rivers — Godavari, Krishna, Kaveri, and Narmada.

8.3 Climate

India has a monsoon-dominated climate, broadly divided into four seasons: winter, summer, the south-west monsoon (the primary rainy season, June–September), and the retreating/north-east monsoon (October–December, important for Tamil Nadu's rainfall). The Himalayas play a crucial role in blocking cold Central Asian winds and trapping monsoon moisture.

8.4 States and Union Territories (Quick Facts)

- India has 28 states and 8 Union Territories (as per the most recent reorganisation, following the 2019 changes to Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh) — verify the current figure before your exam, as UT status has changed in the past decade.
- Rajasthan is the largest state by area; Uttar Pradesh is the most populous state.
- Goa is the smallest state by area; Sikkim is the least populous state.

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 8: Indian Geography Essentials

1. Which is the longest river within India?
(a) Brahmaputra (b) Ganga (c) Godavari (d) Yamuna
2. The Tropic of Cancer passes through approximately how many Indian states?
(a) Twelve (b) Four (c) Two (d) Eight
3. Which mountain range separates India from the Tibetan Plateau to the north?
(a) The Aravalli Range (b) The Himalayas (c) The Eastern Ghats (d) The Western Ghats
4. The Thar Desert, India's main arid region, is located primarily in which state?
(a) Haryana (b) Gujarat (c) Madhya Pradesh (d) Rajasthan
5. Which is the southernmost point of mainland India?
(a) Kochi (b) Port Blair (c) Rameswaram (d) Kanyakumari
6. India's western coastal plain, lying between the Western Ghats and the Arabian Sea, is known as the:
(a) Konkan and Malabar Coast (western coastal plain) (b) Deccan Plateau (c) Coromandel Coast (d) Gangetic Plain
7. Which is the largest state in India by area?
(a) Uttar Pradesh (b) Madhya Pradesh (c) Rajasthan (d) Maharashtra
8. Which two major rivers, along with the Brahmaputra, form the Sundarbans delta region?
(a) The Ganga and its distributaries (b) The Indus and Sutlej (c) The Godavari and Krishna (d) The Narmada and Tapi

Chapter 9 — Indian Polity & Constitution

9.1 Making of the Constitution

The Constitution of India was drafted by the Constituent Assembly, which began its work in December 1946 and adopted the final text on 26 November 1949 (now observed as Constitution Day / Samvidhan Divas). The Constitution came into force on 26 January 1950, a date chosen to commemorate the 1930 declaration of Purna Swaraj (complete independence). Dr. B.R. Ambedkar chaired the Drafting Committee and is regarded as the chief architect of the Constitution; Dr. Rajendra Prasad served as President of the Constituent Assembly.

9.2 Structure of the Constitution

- Preamble — states India to be a Sovereign, Socialist, Secular, Democratic Republic, securing Justice, Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity.
- Fundamental Rights (Part III) — includes the Right to Equality, Right to Freedom, Right against Exploitation, Right to Freedom of Religion, Cultural and Educational Rights, and the Right to Constitutional Remedies.
- Directive Principles of State Policy (Part IV) — non-justiciable guidelines directing the state towards social and economic welfare.
- Fundamental Duties (Part IVA, Article 51A) — added by the 42nd Amendment (1976); originally 10 duties, later 11 with the addition of a duty relating to education of children.

9.3 Union and State Government

India follows a federal structure with a parliamentary system at both the Union and State levels. At the Union level, executive power vests in the President (head of state) and is exercised by the Council of Ministers headed by the Prime Minister, who is responsible to the Lok Sabha (the directly elected lower house of Parliament). The Rajya Sabha is the upper house, representing the states. At the state level, the Governor is the constitutional head, with real executive power resting with the Chief Minister and Council of Ministers, responsible to the state Legislative Assembly.

9.4 Important Constitutional Bodies

Body	Function
Election Commission of India	Conducts elections to Parliament, State Legislatures, and the offices of President and Vice-President
Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG)	Audits government accounts and expenditure
Union Public Service Commission (UPSC)	Conducts recruitment examinations for central civil services
Finance Commission	Recommends the distribution of tax revenues between the Union and the States
National Human Rights Commission	A statutory (not constitutional) body protecting human rights

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 9: Indian Polity & Constitution

1. The Constitution of India was adopted by the Constituent Assembly on:
(a) 26 November 1949 (b) 15 August 1947 (c) 26 January 1950 (d) 2 October 1949
2. The Constitution of India came into effect (was enforced) on:
(a) 1 January 1950 (b) 15 August 1947 (c) 26 November 1949 (d) 26 January 1950
3. Who is widely regarded as the chief architect of the Indian Constitution, having chaired its Drafting Committee?
(a) Dr. B.R. Ambedkar (b) Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel (c) Dr. Rajendra Prasad (d) Jawaharlal Nehru
4. Fundamental Rights in the Indian Constitution are contained in which Part?
(a) Part V (b) Part III (c) Part IV (d) Part II
5. The Directive Principles of State Policy are contained in which Part of the Constitution?
(a) Part VI (b) Part V (c) Part IV (d) Part III

6. Which Article of the Constitution is known as the 'heart and soul' of the Constitution, per Dr. Ambedkar, as it guarantees the Right to Constitutional Remedies?

- (a) Article 19 (b) Article 32 (c) Article 21 (d) Article 14

7. The Right to Education was added as a Fundamental Right under which Article?

- (a) Article 45 (b) Article 21A (c) Article 51A (d) Article 14

8. Who was the first President of India?

- (a) Dr. Rajendra Prasad (b) Dr. S. Radhakrishnan (c) V.V. Giri (d) Zakir Husain

9. The Indian Parliament is composed of the President and which two Houses?

- (a) Lok Sabha and Planning Commission (b) Rajya Sabha and Vidhan Parishad (c) Lok Sabha and State Assembly (d) Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha

10. Panchayati Raj institutions were given constitutional status through which amendment?

- (a) The 61st Amendment (b) The 42nd Amendment (c) The 44th Amendment (d) The 73rd Amendment

Chapter 10 — General Science Capsule

10.1 Physics Essentials

Concept	Key Fact
SI unit of force	Newton
SI unit of work/energy	Joule
SI unit of power	Watt
SI unit of electric current	Ampere
SI unit of resistance	Ohm
Speed of light in vacuum	Approximately 3×10^8 metres per second
Newton's Laws of Motion	Three laws describing the relationship between a body and the forces acting on it, formulated by Sir Isaac Newton

10.2 Chemistry Essentials

Concept	Key Fact
Chemical symbol of gold	Au
Chemical symbol of sodium	Na
Chemical formula of water	H ₂ O
Chemical formula of common salt	NaCl
Most abundant gas in the atmosphere	Nitrogen (about 78%)
Gas responsible for the greenhouse effect	Carbon dioxide (along with methane and other gases)

10.3 Biology Essentials

Concept	Key Fact
Powerhouse of the cell	Mitochondria
Site of photosynthesis in plant cells	Chloroplast
Number of chambers in the human heart	Four
Normal human body temperature	Approximately 37°C (98.6°F)
Vitamin produced in the body via sunlight	Vitamin D
Vitamin C deficiency disease	Scurvy
Universal blood donor group	O negative

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 10: General Science Capsule

1. The powerhouse of the cell is the:
(a) Golgi apparatus (b) Mitochondria (c) Nucleus (d) Ribosome

2. Photosynthesis in plants takes place mainly in the:
(a) Vacuole (b) Mitochondria (c) Chloroplast (d) Nucleus
3. The normal human body temperature is approximately:
(a) 40°C (b) 37°C (98.6°F) (c) 39°C (d) 35°C
4. The SI unit of electric current is the:
(a) Ampere (b) Volt (c) Ohm (d) Watt
5. The chemical symbol for common salt (sodium chloride) is:
(a) CaCl₂ (b) NaOH (c) KCl (d) NaCl
6. Which gas is most abundant in the Earth's atmosphere?
(a) Carbon dioxide (b) Nitrogen (c) Argon (d) Oxygen
7. The planet known as the 'Red Planet' is:
(a) Mars (b) Jupiter (c) Venus (d) Mercury
8. Vitamin C deficiency causes which disease?
(a) Night blindness (b) Beriberi (c) Scurvy (d) Rickets
9. The human heart has how many chambers?
(a) Six (b) Three (c) Two (d) Four
10. The process by which plants lose water vapour through their leaves is called:
(a) Respiration (b) Photosynthesis (c) Osmosis (d) Transpiration

Answers: 1-b 2-c 3-b 4-a 5-d 6-b 7-a 8-c 9-d 10-d

Chapter 11 — General Awareness Capsule

11.1 Inventions and Inventors

Invention	Inventor
Telephone	Alexander Graham Bell
Light bulb (practical incandescent)	Thomas Edison
World Wide Web	Tim Berners-Lee
Theory of Relativity	Albert Einstein
Printing press (movable type, Europe)	Johannes Gutenberg
Telegraph / Morse code	Samuel Morse

11.2 World Organisations and Headquarters

Organisation	Headquarters
United Nations (UN)	New York, USA
World Health Organization (WHO)	Geneva, Switzerland
UNESCO	Paris, France
International Monetary Fund (IMF)	Washington D.C., USA
World Bank	Washington D.C., USA
World Trade Organization (WTO)	Geneva, Switzerland
SAARC	Kathmandu, Nepal
ASEAN	Jakarta, Indonesia

11.3 Important Days

Day	Date
Republic Day (India)	26 January
World Environment Day	5 June
International Yoga Day	21 June
Independence Day (India)	15 August
Gandhi Jayanti / International Day of Non-Violence	2 October
Constitution Day (India)	26 November
Human Rights Day	10 December

11.4 Awards

- Bharat Ratna — India's highest civilian award, for exceptional service in any field.
- Padma Vibhushan, Padma Bhushan, Padma Shri — India's next-highest civilian awards, in descending order.

- Nobel Prize — international awards in Physics, Chemistry, Medicine, Literature, Peace, and Economic Sciences, established per Alfred Nobel's will.
- Ashoka Chakra and Param Vir Chakra — India's highest peacetime and wartime gallantry awards respectively.

11.5 Sports Quick Facts

- The Olympic Games are held every four years; India's first individual Olympic gold medal was won by Abhinav Bindra (shooting, 2008 Beijing Games).
- Cricket: a Test match traditionally lasts up to five days; the ICC (International Cricket Council) governs the sport internationally.
- Football's premier international tournament is the FIFA World Cup, held every four years.
- India's national game is often cited informally as hockey, though India has no constitutionally declared national sport.

Quick Self-Check — Chapter 11: General Awareness Capsule

- The headquarters of the United Nations is located in:
(a) Paris (b) New York (c) Geneva (d) The Hague
- SAARC, a regional organisation that includes India and its South Asian neighbours, stands for:
(a) South Asian Alliance for Regional Commerce (b) South Asian Association for Rural Cooperation (c) South African Association for Regional Cooperation (d) South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation
- The World Health Organization (WHO) has its headquarters in:
(a) Rome (b) Vienna (c) Geneva (d) New York
- Which day is observed as World Environment Day?
(a) 21 June (b) 5 June (c) 8 March (d) 22 April
- International Yoga Day is observed on:
(a) 21 June (b) 5 June (c) 1 May (d) 15 June
- The World Wide Web was invented by:
(a) Steve Jobs (b) Charles Babbage (c) Tim Berners-Lee (d) Bill Gates
- The telephone was invented by:
(a) Nikola Tesla (b) Thomas Edison (c) Guglielmo Marconi (d) Alexander Graham Bell
- India's highest civilian award is the:
(a) Padma Vibhushan (b) Ashoka Chakra (c) Bharat Ratna (d) Padma Bhushan
- The Nobel Prize is awarded annually from a foundation established in the will of:
(a) John Nobel (b) Alfred Nobel (c) Alfred Hitchcock (d) Thomas Nobel
- The headquarters of ISRO (Indian Space Research Organisation) is in:
(a) Chennai (b) Thiruvananthapuram (c) Hyderabad (d) Bengaluru

Chapter 12 — Current Affairs: A Strategy, Not a Fixed List

No printed book — including this one — can responsibly claim to list 'current affairs for 2027' with any accuracy, because current affairs by definition covers events that have not yet happened at the time of writing. Any guidebook that prints specific 2027 news items as fact should be treated with suspicion. What this chapter offers instead is a dependable method for building your current affairs preparation in the months before your actual exam date.

12.1 What ADRE Typically Tests in Current Affairs

- National news — major government schemes, policy announcements, Union Budget highlights, appointments to key constitutional and administrative posts.
- Assam-specific news — state government schemes, new districts or administrative units, infrastructure projects, state budget highlights, appointments within Assam, and major state-level events.
- International affairs — major summits, organisations in the news, and globally significant events.
- Science and technology — new inventions, space missions (especially ISRO), and notable scientific achievements.
- Sports — major tournament winners, records, and India's performance in international events.
- Awards and honours — recent Nobel laureates, Bharat Ratna and Padma award recipients, Sahitya Akademi and Jnanpith awardees.

12.2 A Reliable Monthly Routine

- Read one national English-language newspaper daily (front page, national, and business sections) — 20–30 minutes is enough if done consistently.
- Follow an Assamese or Assam-focused newspaper or news portal specifically for state-level developments, which national papers often under-cover.
- At the end of each month, prepare or download a one-page 'monthly current affairs' summary and file it — by exam time you will have 6–12 concise monthly sheets instead of a year of scattered notes.
- Revise your monthly sheets on a rolling basis — review the current month weekly, and the last three months once a month.
- In the final 4–6 weeks before the exam, focus specifically on the preceding 6–12 months, since recent events are statistically more likely to appear than older ones.

12.3 High-Yield Focus Areas Specific to ADRE

- Assam government flagship schemes and their objectives, launch dates, and implementing departments.
- Recent appointments to key Assam government and constitutional posts (Governor, Chief Secretary, DGP, Advocate General, etc.).
- New infrastructure — bridges, highways, airports, and industrial projects within Assam.
- Assam's sportspersons, artists, and other individuals who have recently received national or international recognition.
- Any changes to the number of districts, autonomous councils, or administrative divisions within Assam.

Update this chapter's checklist with your own notes as your exam date approaches — treat the printed chapters of this book as your permanent foundation, and your personal monthly current affairs file as the layer you add on top.

Chapter 13 — Rapid Revision: 50 High-Yield One-Liners

Use this chapter in the final week before your exam. Cover the right-hand column and test yourself against each fact on the left.

Ahom dynasty founder	Sukaphaa (1228 CE)
Ahom general at Battle of Saraighat (1671)	Lachit Borphukan

Appendix — Suggested Eight-Week Study Planner

This planner assumes roughly one hour of GK study per day alongside your preparation for Reasoning, English, and Mathematics. Adjust the pace to the time remaining before your actual exam date.

Week	Focus
Week 1	Chapter 1 (Exam Blueprint) and Chapter 2 (Assam at a Glance) — memorise the one-page snapshot
Week 2	Chapter 3 — History of Assam, with the chapter quiz repeated until you score full marks
Week 3	Chapter 4 — Geography of Assam, plus revision of Chapters 2–3
Week 4	Chapter 5 and Chapter 6 — Assam Polity, Economy, Society and Culture
Week 5	Chapter 7 and Chapter 8 — Indian History and Geography Essentials
Week 6	Chapter 9 and Chapter 10 — Indian Polity & Constitution, General Science
Week 7	Chapter 11 — General Awareness, plus begin your personal Current Affairs file (Chapter 12 method)
Week 8	Chapter 13 (Rapid Revision) daily, Chapter 14 (Full-Length Test) attempted twice, and a full review of all chapter quizzes

Final Reminder

Assam-specific General Knowledge is your single biggest scoring opportunity in the ADRE exam relative to other candidates. If your revision time is limited in the final days, prioritise Chapters 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 13 over the India-level and general-awareness chapters — they cover material most other candidates are less likely to have studied in this depth.

This guidebook is an independent self-study resource and is not an official SLRC/AASC publication. Always cross-check the official ADRE 2027 notification, syllabus, and admit card once released, and supplement this book's static content with up-to-date current affairs closer to your exam date.
